Mission Statement

To provide quality care with dignity and compassion.

Vision

The Long Island Home will work collaboratively to provide innovative, effective and cost-efficient services within an integrated community health delivery system. An expanding continuum of care will provide alternatives and choices for treatment and support, promoting the highest practicable levels of wellness and independence for patients and families. We will continue our shift in emphasis from illness to wellness, from service to outcomes, and from individual performance to collaboration with consumers and a participative leadership model.

Values

- Compassion – Dignity – Diversity
- Efficiency – Excellence – Integrity
- Learning – Patient Safety – Respect – Teamwork

A Message to Our Community

Strength through perseverance. That guiding philosophy pervades everything we do at The Long Island Home. Thanks to the commitment of our Board of Directors, executive management, and over 1,000 dedicated employees, 2006 proved to be one of our strongest operational years in more than a decade. We are proud to report that last year's strategic initiatives have yielded even greater returns than expected. The Long Island Home is making a transition to the future, which can be witnessed in nearly every facet of its operation.

Technology continues to play a greater role in our lives, and The Long Island Home embraces this evolution. The reconstruction of our co-generation plant into an environmentally friendly natural gas facility will make us more efficient by reducing operating costs and providing increased power reliability. The new plant will enable The Long Island Home to sell electricity to the Long Island Power Authority when needed. We updated our laundry facilities by installing high-efficiency, large-capacity equipment for greater productivity and increased patient satisfaction. After a successful implementation of CareTracker at Broadlawn Manor for electronic patient records management, we look to deploy this technology at South Oaks Hospital to achieve the same accuracy and accountability in patient care. Health Partners of New York is instituting a teleworker approach for Enrollment Assessment and Care Management nurses. To facilitate this process, an investment in new GPS-enabled mobile phone technology for logistical and staff utilization is underway. By using home-based offices for field staff, Health Partners of New York can reduce the overhead requirements for an administrative office. What's more, we are proud to announce the launch of our new website so we can share our great programs, news, resources and events with the community.

We are also proud of the major accomplishments at Broadlawn Manor, Health Partners of New York and South Oaks Hospital. For the second consecutive year, Broadlawn Manor has achieved a Deficiency-Free Survey by the New York State Department of Health — an enviable distinction awarded to only 11% of providers. Broadlawn Manor expanded its Outpatient Rehabilitation Program offering a full range of advanced programs featuring VitalStim Therapy, an innovative treatment for individuals with swallowing difficulties. Health Partners of New York executed a highly successful expansion into Suffolk County and spearheaded the effort to offer this managed long-term care plan as a viable option to the underserved Medicaid residents of the East End of Long Island. South Oaks Hospital met its 2006 goals of quality healthcare and financial stability within all its programs and services. South Oaks Hospital is excited about the New York State Office of Alcohol and Substance Abuse Services application to further expand our program with an additional ten beds. Our Child and Adolescent Center of Excellence continues to make a tremendous impact in our community.

In 2006, we closed Jennings Assisted Living Center at Broadlawn. Our residents at Jennings were transitioned successfully to appropriate senior options within our community. Additionally, we completed the sale of another parcel of land, which will allow us to maximize the use of our remaining 26 beautiful acres of campus.

Looking to the future, The Long Island Home will continue to expand through innovative programs and services. We launched a new initiative to develop a management philosophy for better patient outcomes through evidence-based medicine, and have produced more than 40 prototypes for success at a recent staff retreat. The Long Island Home continues to strive for excellence in all its programs and looks forward to our 125th year serving our community.

Thank you for your support — the best is yet to come.

Comprehensive Mental Health Services

South Oaks Hospital has long been recognized for its commitment to quality and compassionate care, crisis management, treatment, and recovery, on a local and national basis. For nearly a century and a quarter, South Oaks has dedicated its expertise, staff and resources to providing treatment and recovery from acute psychiatric illness and chemical dependency in an optimal setting.

As part of our transition to the future, South Oaks Hospital is evolving its methodology of patient care through outcome-based practices to foster a “coercion-free” environment. Through our continuing commitment to staff education and training, we aim to minimize disruptive behaviors. The benefits of this new approach can already be witnessed across all programs in the significant reduction of psychiatric emergencies in 2006.

South Oaks Hospital continues to perform well in meeting all surveys by governing regulatory agencies. In February, The Joint Commission conducted a one-day survey of our Chemical Dependency Program, and in March the New York State Office of Alcoholism and Substance Abuse Services (OASAS) conducted a four-day survey of our Inpatient Rehabilitation Program. The maximum certification period of three years was received.

Further demonstrating The Long Island Home’s commitment to tomorrow’s workforce, South Oaks Hospital has provided an increasing amount of educational opportunities.

Working in partnership with leading educational organizations on Long Island, dozens of nursing, social work, counseling and recreational therapist students participated in the Intern/Volunteer Program.

Child & Adolescent Center of Excellence

South Oaks Hospital is proud of its long track record of success in nurturing the mental health and wellbeing of children and adolescents. These unique programs at the Center of Excellence have been effective in treating a diverse mix of acute behavioral, emotional and substance abuse problems. South Oaks Hospital’s behavior modification system, combined with therapeutic rehabilitation, has empowered patients to affect positive change for lasting results.

The Child & Adolescent Center of Excellence continues its focus on coercion-free techniques in patient care, and this has yielded outstanding results. Further education in October trained the staff in techniques that embrace this philosophy of care.

The Children’s Inpatient Program provides a discrete unit for children between the ages of 5 and 12 and another for adolescents between the ages of 13 and 18. In 2006, the total number of patient days in the Children’s Inpatient Program increased 2.4% to 4,030 patient days. The Partial Hospitalization Program, one of only two in Suffolk County, provides intensive treatment following an inpatient stay to adolescents between the ages of 13 and 18. Patient visits to the Partial Hospitalization Program increased to 3,145 in 2006, reflecting a 5.7% increase over the previous year.

Adult Programs

South Oaks Hospital’s Adult Programs provide experienced psychiatric care to adults 18 years of age and older. Treatments are available for adults who suffer from acute disorders such as anxiety, mood, and schizophrenic disorders, as well as behavioral and personality disorders. During 2006, the Adult Unit was updated for both safety and aesthetics, and environmental rounds have been increased to help identify and implement further improvements.

The 26-bed Adult Inpatient Program provides intensive, comprehensive treatments to individuals who suffer from an acute phase of mental illness and require continual supervision and care. In 2006, the Adult Inpatient Program accrued 12,816 patient days.

The Adult Partial Hospitalization Program offers intensive psychiatric treatments to patients who are able to live within the community, and benefit from a structured, supportive environment.

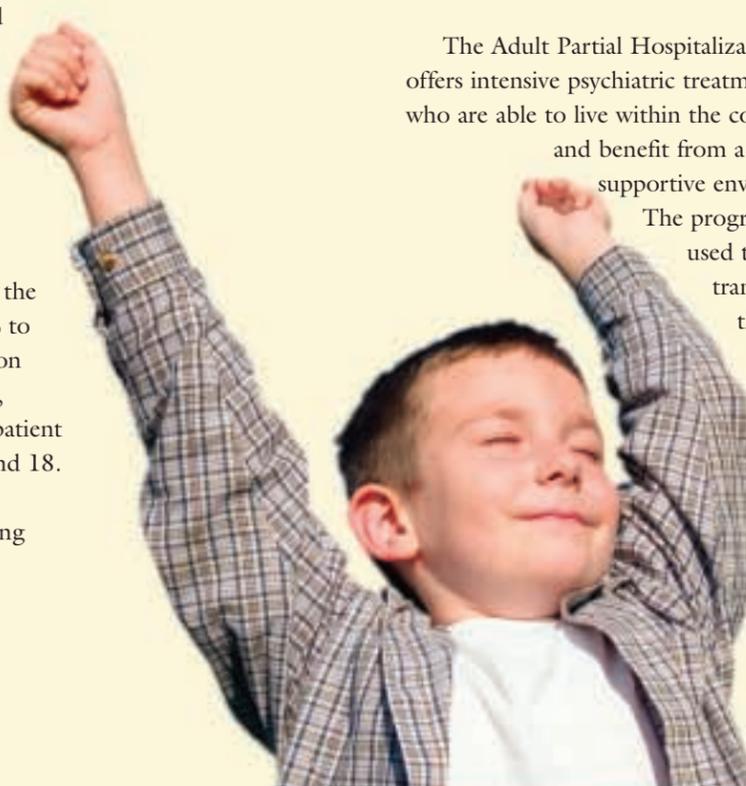

The program is frequently used to ease the transition back into the community following participation in the Inpatient Program. Patient visits in 2006 increased to 3,300, representing a 29.9% increase over 2005.

Senior Adult Programs

The Senior Adult Programs at South Oaks Hospital provide highly specialized inpatient psychiatric care to adults 65 years of age and older. Treatments are available to alleviate acute mood, memory and/or behavioral disorders, such as depression, psychosis, anxiety disorder, dementia, Alzheimer’s disease, or post traumatic stress.

Safety is always a concern when it comes to caring for the elderly with psychiatric problems. South Oaks Hospital’s Fall Prevention Program, combined with environment modifications, has dramatically decreased the number of injuries for the second year in a row. The staff has also received training in the early detection of escalations in behavior, and the proper use of techniques such as redirection, decreased stimulation and one-on-one interventions. This resulted in zero disruptive emergencies in 2006. The Senior Adult Programs have also adopted the Patient-Focused Model over the less effective Task-Oriented Model of nursing care to yield even greater results and satisfaction. Services provided in the Senior Adult Programs grew 2.83% in 2006, reaching 8,221 patient days.

*Working together
for a brighter future.*

Chemical Dependency & Gambling Programs

South Oaks Hospital is renowned for its inpatient, outpatient and partial hospitalization programs for addictive disorders such as alcoholism, substance abuse and/or compulsive gambling. For patients who are also affected by coexisting disorders such as mental illness, the programs also provide comprehensive psychiatric services.

Demand for the Chemical Dependency & Gambling Programs remains high, and South Oaks Hospital responded to the needs of the community by launching an Evening Intensive Outpatient Program in 2006. In addition, OASAS has provided approval for ten additional beds within the Inpatient Supervised Withdrawal Service, bringing the total capacity to 18 beds. In order to extend the positive impact of the program's expertise beyond the campus, South Oaks Hospital is seeking additional approval from OASAS to open a satellite outpatient clinic at a local high school.

South Oaks Hospital also launched an Adolescent Chemical Dependency & Gambling Program in 2006 through a grant provided by New York State, and plans to further expand the offering during the coming year. The role of the Psychiatric Nurse Practitioner has been increased to two days per week. This will provide increased psychiatric evaluations on dual diagnosis patients and additional medication management services.

The largest increase for Chemical Dependency & Gambling treatment was in the Partial Hospitalization Program for Alcohol and Substance Abuse, which increased by 88.7% to 5,558 visits. The Intensive Outpatient Program also increased significantly by 13.6% to 3,890 patient days. In 2006, the Inpatient Program achieved 6,425 patient days and the Outpatient Program had 11,115 visits.

Vocational & Career Counseling Program

South Oaks Hospital's Vocational & Career Counseling Program provides vocational rehabilitation and career guidance to individuals of all ages throughout Nassau and Suffolk counties. The program is vital for those who wish to seek higher education, change their career path, transition from school to work, or have been out of the job market due to a disability or addiction.

The program continues to work with the New York State Office of Vocational and Educational Services for Individuals with Disabilities (VESID). We also provide life skills training, work readiness skills, job coaching, vocational assessments, pre-vocational services, and mental health counseling to students in various school districts. In 2006, a National Institute for Disability and Rehabilitation Research (NIDRR) grant, through the Center for Essential Management Services, continued to fund the Consortium for Employment Success. This is a collaborative effort in which South Oaks Hospital participates and provides training for rehabilitation counselors so they can help disabled residents in the community obtain and maintain employment.

Project C.A.R.E.

A non-traditional experiential approach to building confidence, self-esteem and trust in children and adolescents, Project C.A.R.E. is spearheaded by experienced healthcare professionals.

Last year, the state-of-the-art course was expanded to include an exciting new challenge — the trapeze jump. In order to better protect patients' identities, a new privacy fence was built, the main entrance was relocated, and seasonal outdoor facilities were provided.

In 2006, there were 679 participants representing 24 different schools and community organizations in the team building workshops, and 115 children in the Summer Youth Adventure Program. Thanks to the generosity of supporters through the Tapestry Youth-At-Risk fund, many individuals who might not have been able to afford the expense were able to participate.

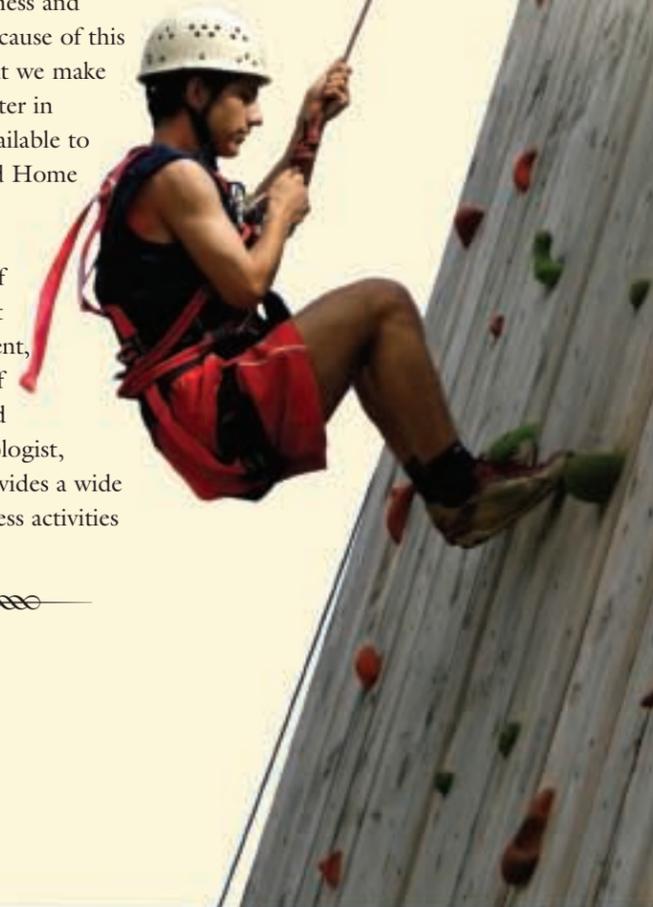

Corporate C.A.R.E.

Corporate C.A.R.E. provides adventure workshops that facilitate local businesses, colleges and internship programs to work, think and learn together as a solid team. The program provides a valuable opportunity for management and employees to rejuvenate, re-connect, recharge and experience professional and personal growth in a non-traditional setting.

In recognition of the value of this unique team building program, we have utilized the C.A.R.E. course for Long Island Home employees. In 2006, five different three-hour sessions were held to promote communication, tolerance, awareness and respect among our staff. The success of the program is clearly evident in our day-to-day operation, and additional sessions will be scheduled in the future.

Employee Wellness

The Long Island Home encourages all staff to engage in a moderate level of physical activity for optimal fitness and health. It is because of this philosophy that we make our fitness center in Wilsey Hall available to all Long Island Home staff members. Beyond its full complement of state-of-the-art fitness equipment, and an on-staff master-degreed exercise physiologist, the facility provides a wide range of wellness activities and seminars.

Comprehensive Long-Term and Sub-Acute Continuum of Care for Senior Adults

For over 50 years, Broadlawn Manor has been dedicated to the vision of providing the very best in healthcare with a “Continuum of Services” that encompass the options senior adults need.

In the spirit of our transition to the future, Broadlawn Manor has become the first nursing home on Long Island to implement a computerized documentation system for patient care. This new system, known as CareTracker, allows staff to easily and accurately document the care that is provided to residents on a touch-screen system located throughout the facility.

With the Federal Government’s enactment of the Medicare Prescription Drug Program, Broadlawn Manor was faced with helping over 400 residents and registrants arrange their benefits. In less than 45 days, staff members rose to the occasion and were able to help each person determine the optimal plan based on his/her unique circumstances. The cost of medicine and overhead were also further reduced by decreasing the size of the internal pharmacy and partnering with a large network for greater efficiency.

Broadlawn Manor enjoys a strong global reputation for its innovative senior care. In October, a delegation of three professors from the Takasaki University of Health and Welfare in Japan visited. The guests received a complete tour of the facility to help them learn more about innovative best practices, environment and quality of life issues for residents.

Skilled Nursing & Sub-Acute Programs

Broadlawn Manor’s commitment to high-quality, compassionate resident care is reflected in a recent Family/Resident Satisfaction Survey. This demonstrated that 98% of families are highly satisfied with the care and services. 99% of families are likely to recommend Broadlawn Manor to family members and friends.

In October, Broadlawn Manor received an annual review by the New York State Department of Health. The inspection covered all facets of the operation, including documentation review, observation of care and services provided, environmental review, fire safety review, and interviews with staff, residents and families. We are proud to say that Broadlawn Manor received a Deficiency-Free Survey for the second consecutive year.

Continually striving to offer the best care, Broadlawn Manor is now working with Evercare to provide Medicare health benefits to residents. Evercare is a nationally recognized Medicare Advantage Plan that provides additional clinical support, such as full-time nurse practitioners, for enrolled participants. The new relationship helps lower healthcare costs while offering a higher level of service, and has been effective in reducing the need for emergency hospital visits.

Broadlawn Manor’s rehabilitation program has been effective in returning individuals to their highest level of functionality and improving their quality of life. To enhance the outcomes of our patients, Broadlawn Manor has adopted a body weight support device that uses a harness system, enabling each individual to develop a more efficient walking pattern in a safe and secure environment. This method frees therapists from physically supporting patients while walking and provides the therapist with the opportunity to evaluate the patient’s gait. An Outpatient Rehabilitation Program was also launched, extending the benefit to individuals within the community.

The Restorative Nursing Program at Broadlawn Manor was also expanded in 2006. This additional layer of support has proven crucial to maintaining the optimal physical, mental, and psychosocial functioning of residents.

Adult Day Health and Social Adult Day Programs

For more than a decade, Broadlawn Manor has been providing support to seniors in the community with the Adult Day Health and Social Adult Day Programs. These programs provide tremendous emotional support to individuals living in the community, as well as peace of mind and respite for caregivers. We also recently added alternative therapies, such as aromatherapy, to augment care.

The Adult Day Health Program offers a breadth of health and social services to physically, socially and/or mentally impaired individuals who will benefit from preventive, diagnostic, therapeutic, rehabilitative or palliative services. In 2006, the Adult Day Health Program increased to 15,426 registrant visits.

The Social Adult Day Program provides a full day of socialization, emotional support and stimulating activities for senior adults in a safe, comfortable environment. The program enhances their self-esteem, wellbeing and dignity. Responding to the growing needs of participants, the facility was increased in size to provide a more spacious living room and recreational area. Participation in the Social Adult Day Program increased to 6,323 visits in 2006.

Managed Long-Term Care Plan

Health Partners of New York (HPNY) is a managed long-term care plan for Medicaid recipients who qualify for nursing home care, but wish to live at home or within the community. Designed in partnership with the New York State Department of Health and the Department of Social Services of Nassau and Suffolk Counties, HPNY's plan is to provide a highly cost-effective solution for managing the health and wellbeing of Medicaid recipients.

Island-Wide Home Health Care Expansion

Previously available only to Nassau County residents, the service area for HPNY was expanded into Suffolk County during 2006. This expansion has presented some logistical challenges, primarily because the population is more geographically dispersed than in Nassau County — most notably on the East End of Long Island.

Recognizing an opportunity to help the underserved Medicaid populations on the North and South Forks, HPNY spearheaded the creation of the East End Care Network by combining the resources of multiple healthcare providers. The network, launched in November of 2006, leverages the expertise of such organizations as the Alzheimer's Association of Long Island, North Shore LIJ, Comfort Keepers, Recco Home Care and Utopia Home Care. In just two months of service, the network exceeded all expectations and was handling twice the projected number of cases. We anticipate the demand growing even further as a result of the Suffolk County Department of Social Services providing direct referrals.

Strategic Growth Plan

Demand for the HPNY plan remains strong, and membership grew by more than 30% during 2006 to 670 members. Considering the vast area that requires coverage, HPNY is instituting a teleworker approach for Enrollment Assessment and Care Management nurses. To facilitate this process, an investment in new GPS-enabled mobile phone technology for logistical and staff utilization purposes is currently underway. By using home-based offices for field staff, HPNY can reduce the overhead requirements for an administrative office.

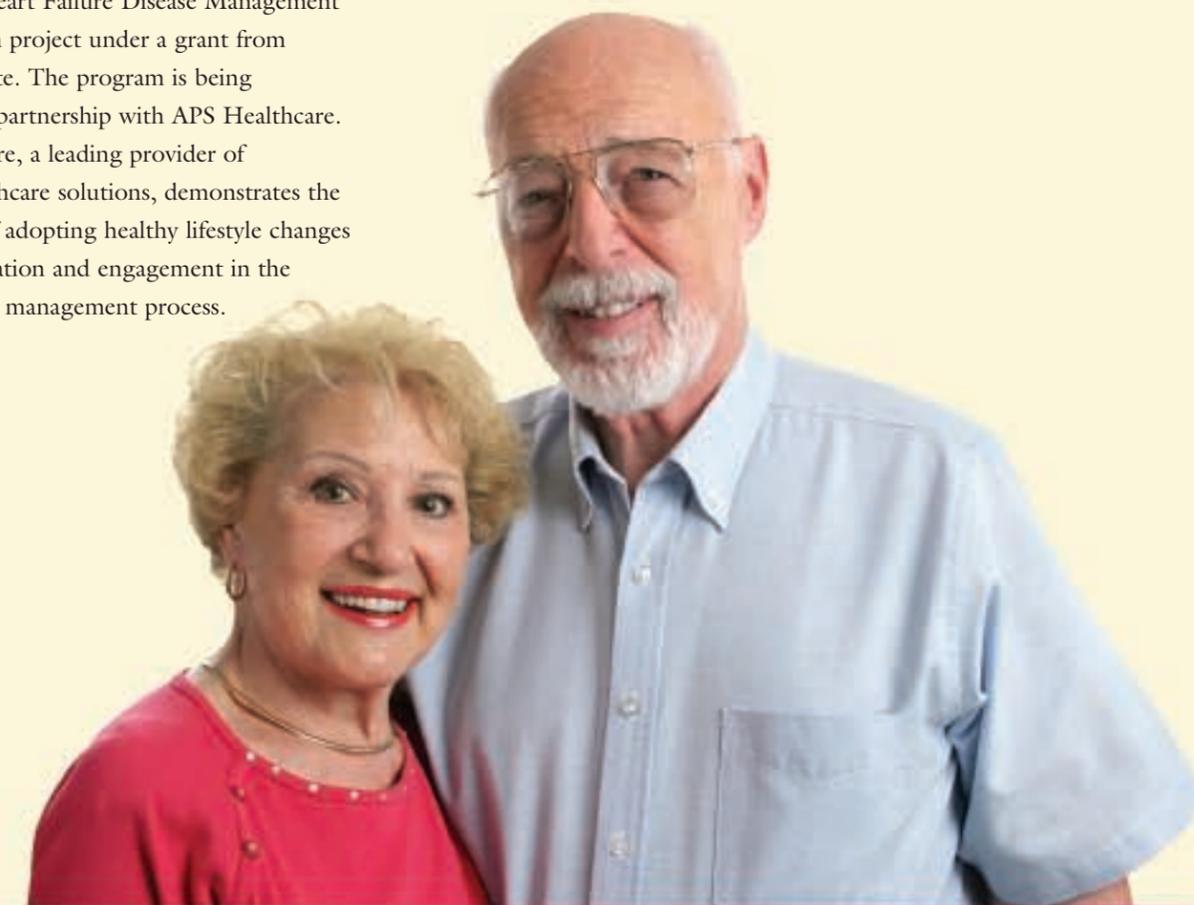

In an effort to reduce the cost of medical and diabetic supplies, HPNY has instituted a preferred provider relationship with a strong company. Nearly 61% of our members with diabetes have already chosen the preferred provider, further reducing the cost for supplies. Supplier performance has been excellent, and quality surveys among members have consistently reflected high satisfaction with the arrangement.

In only four months, enrollment reached 258 members and more are anticipated through New York State Department of Health referrals. Outreach efforts aimed at increasing participation is underway and includes community agencies and local cardiologists.

Congestive Heart Failure Disease Management Study

In 2006, HPNY commenced the Congestive Heart Failure Disease Management demonstration project under a grant from New York State. The program is being conducted in partnership with APS Healthcare. APS Healthcare, a leading provider of specialty healthcare solutions, demonstrates the importance of adopting healthy lifestyle changes through education and engagement in the treatment and management process.

Disability Awareness Conference

On May 3, 2006, The Long Island Home hosted the Eighth Annual Disabilities Awareness Conference. Centered on the theme of “Life’s Stages: Transitions and Passages Throughout the Life Span,” the invigorating event featured numerous speakers who presented stories of overcoming disability. One of the most inspiring events was a live musical performance by Brittany Maier who was born severely premature, blind, and later diagnosed with mental disabilities and autism. Today, she is a nationally recognized musician who has appeared on NBC’s Dateline and the Barnes & Noble Concert Tour. A panel discussion of professionals, who are all parents of disabled children, was also held.

Mini-Walk For Alzheimer’s

On October 5, 2006, The Long Island Home held its annual Mini-Walk to benefit the Alzheimer’s Association of Long Island. A host of residents, registrants, staff, family and volunteers participated in the event, which took place on the campus of The Long Island Home. A check in the amount of $1,164.00 was presented to the Alzheimer’s Association of Long Island to support continuing research, education and program development.

Annual Blood Drives

The Long Island Home held its annual blood drives in February and June of 2006 in the Chapel/Auditorium. Participants included staff, family members and friends who donated more than 183 pints of blood to the Long Island Blood Services. All donors received movie tickets from The Long Island Home as a personal thank you for their gift of life.

Speakers Bureau

Frequently, the experienced staff of The Long Island Home is asked to participate in speaking engagements. During 2006, staff of The Long Island Home donated 233 hours of time that touched the lives of more than 6,500 people at schools, senior centers, hospitals, nursing homes, churches, community organizations, support groups, libraries, and civic associations. Our staff is dedicated to sharing important information with audiences of all ages on topics such as Laughter is the Best Medicine, Fall Prevention, Bullying, Medications and What You Should Know, Self-Mutilation, Children in Crisis, Gambling, Substance Abuse, Senior Options, Disease Management and Suicide.

United Way Campaign

Our employees are committed to helping change lives on Long Island. They realize that their donations can assist with important issues facing Long Islanders, including improving access to healthcare, supporting children and youth, reducing hunger and assisting neighbors in need. In June 2006, The Long Island Home held its annual United Way Campaign. We are proud of our employees and their collective donation of $10,275.00.

Diversity Initiative

The Long Island Home has always embraced the tenet of diversity, and we count it as one of our greatest strengths. Our Diversity Committee is dedicated to ensuring that each and every staff member, patient, resident, registrant and their family members are treated with the utmost respect and professionalism at all times. Their vision is to promote a safe environment for everyone, regardless of age, ethnicity, gender, race, sexual orientation, physical/mental abilities, religion, socio-economic status or education. Taking advantage of our C.A.R.E. course, we offer employees the opportunity to participate in group activities that demonstrate the ability to develop new friendships and work more productively with others.

Research & Development/Grants

The Department of Grants & Research actively pursues funding to implement innovative programs and services throughout The Long Island Home. New awards and funding renewals were furnished by federal, state and local entities, which enabled us to continue developing resources for the community. A key grant, provided by New York State Senator Owen Johnson, enabled us to address a community-wide need to care for the mental health of our senior adult population. In addition, a previously funded initiative through Senator Johnson in 2006 provided the resources to develop a website for obtaining information and educational resources pertaining to our areas of service. A number of other grants provided funding for much needed compulsive gambling prevention and treatment programs, as well as vocational rehabilitation for those with mental health disabilities, the integration of schools and mental health service providers, and disease management interventions for individuals with congestive heart failure.

New Website Launched

In December of 2006, we launched our new website for The Long Island Home. Located at www.longislandhome.org, the new site contains valuable information on our community programs and services. The site is continually updated to reflect important news, press releases and exciting events. We encourage you to provide your feedback and visit frequently for the latest updates.

Sixth Annual Tapestry Ball

On Saturday, November 18, 2006, The Long Island Home hosted the Sixth Annual Tapestry Ball at the Crest Hollow Country Club. The Tapestry Ball is a gala evening event that is a major fundraiser for our organization's vital community programs. Joined by 220 guests, corporate sponsors and supporters, it was with delight that we honored the tremendous contributions of two gentlemen with our Tapestry of Life Award — Dr. Richard Dina, the Senior Advisor of University Advancement at Adelphi University and former President and CEO of the Family & Children's Association, and Mr. John T. O'Connor, President and CEO of the Health and Welfare Council of Long Island. The evening, themed for Mardi Gras, was a resounding success and raised more than $68,000 for our programs.

Club in Commack. The weather was perfect, the hole-in-one contests for the automobile and motorcycle added excitement, and many prizes were awarded at the special dinner. It was our pleasure to spend the evening honoring a man who has been steadfast in his leadership and dedication to our community — Mayor Peter T. Imbert of the Village of Amityville and lifetime Amityville resident. Over 180 golfers and dinner guests were in attendance for our inaugural outing where Mayor Imbert was presented with the outing's first Scroll of Honor.

Second Annual Fashion Show

Building upon the success of our premier Fashion Show, we hosted our Second Annual event on Thursday, April 6, 2006. Over 200 guests attended the fun-filled evening that featured a buffet supper, raffles and "Let's Take a Cruise" theme. The latest fashions from Estelle's Dressy Dresses, Dress Barn of Massapequa and Sal's Fashion were modeled on the runway by our very own staff members. Thanks to the generosity of our sponsors and attendees we were able to raise $9,000.

First Annual Golf Classic

The Long Island Home's First Annual Golf Classic was held on June 5, 2006 at the Hamlet Golf and Country

The Spirit of Giving

The Long Island Home received tremendous support from the community in 2006. We gratefully thank our patients, residents, registrants, families, volunteers, staff and friends for their generosity with the 2005 Annual Report Campaign, Dream Appeal, Mini-Walk for Alzheimer's, and other special events during the year. We also thank those who continue to honor or memorialize a loved one through our Tribute and Memorial programs.

We also kindly ask that you consider using the envelope included with this 2006 Annual Report to make an additional contribution to The Long Island Home. These donations enable us to continue the valuable community programs we provide throughout the year.
